It Remains To Be Seen

Only persons with short memories will believe that the General Motors formula for gearing wages to the cost-of-living prepared by the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics will be acceptable to labor unions over the long pull. The reverse gear is missing.

While the formula has great attraction as a means of raising wage scales in proportion to increases in living costs, it remains to be seen how much attraction it would have as a means of reducing wage scales if living costs dropped. In the formula as written, employees could not be given more than a 5-cent net decrease, and even that might create too much resentment to make it practicable.

When the time comes to write a new contract with a new elevator clause in it, economic pressure may be running in a deflationary direction. Elevators, after all, do not go up indefinitely. Sometimes they come down. But it's not to be imagined that union leadership ever would be willing to tie wage scales to a descending cost of living.

That was not the policy of unions during the last deflationary period. Wage scales were kept high. It was judged to be better to work fractional time at high rates than to work full time at lower rates. The building trades particularly were adamant in refusal to lower their scales. Efforts to move the production-consumption cycle off dead center by cheaper production costs were stymied by most unions on the premise that it wasn't their business to reduce wage scales, but only to raise them.

The 'Inept' Voice

The Voice of America again has embarrassed its supporters by broadcasting a drive that has aroused congressional anger.

It should be possible to broadcast an accurate picture of American history and life without incurring sectional pride and twisting the truth into unrecognizable shapes, but the voice hasn't learned how. The latest sample of its scripts to come to congress' attention is full of half-truths, distortions and sorry attempts at coy humor. In an effort to write pithy, attention-holding material, the writers have done the voice a disservice that couldn't have been surpassed had they set out deliberately to sabotage it.

The voice came into being over strong opposition in and out of congress. Only the personal intervention of Secretary Marshall guaranteed it an adequate appropriation for the next fiscal year. The broadcasts were instituted to counter Russia's propaganda campaigns but their ineptness has aroused an antagonism at home that may outweigh their effectiveness abroad.

The latest broadcast script to arouse indignation was put on the air several months ago. Early this month, the voice was placed in charge of Edwin R. Beattie, a highly competent and respected newspaperman. Mr. Beattie has his work cut out for him in restoring public and congressional confidence in the voice.

It's Politics

Like the beginning of Indian summer, the beginning of a national political campaign is a date no one can establish with complete certainty.

But if Indian summer begins when the weather turns mild after the first snowfall, a national political campaign probably begins when the candidates start after the November votes.

On that basis, President Truman probably has started his part of the national campaign. His first campaign trip begins next month. His message calling on congress to raise social security benefits and include 20,000,000 more persons in social security coverage is probably politics, as Republicans have been quick to call it.

It is also — aside from politics — a major issue. Raising social security benefits, whether it's done according to Mr. Truman's plan or according to some other plan, would mean raising social security taxes. Adding millions of new social security beneficiaries would mean adding billions of dollars of new public income for future repayment to eligible taxpayers. Both political parties will have to grapple with the issue sooner or later, because the fact is that existing rates of payment are being made obsolete by inflation. The whole matter is inextricably bound up in politics, as what isn't?

The Right To Work

An NLRB trial examiner has disallowed the damage claims of non-striking employees who were barred by pickets from entering the Colonial Flooring Co. plant at Hagerstown, Md.

The action was brought against the United Furniture Workers local. The plaintiffs charged that since an employer who discharges employees for union activity is financially liable when it uses force to prevent men from working.

The trial examiner found that while the union had violated the Taft-Hartley act by threats and violence, the workers should have appealed to the police to protect their entrance into the plant. He held it wasn't up to the NLRB to collect lost wages in such cases. The board itself will now review the examiner's finding, and a reversal could have far-reaching consequences. If unions are held financially liable, they will be quick to abandon force as a weapon in strikes.

In this connection, the Supreme court has held that a picket line is only an exercise of the right of free speech. It is an appeal for moral support and a notice to the public that a strike is in progress. Pickets have no legal right to resort to physical violence or intimidation. When they do, the duty of local police authority is clear.

The Scientific Approach

Decision of the federal government to establish a pool and south disease research laboratory on Vandenberg Island in Michigan has been announced by the Agriculture department has abandoned a costly project.

gram to eradicate the disease in Mexico by quarantine and slaughter. Two months ago the Farm Journal reported that the battle to bring the Mexican infestation under control had been lost.

Granted the probability of discovering a serum that will impart permanent immunity, the scientific approach will be less costly in the long run. Periodic outbreaks of the disease have been checked, but only at great expense and with no assurance as to the future. Development of a serum would be well worth the cost, for it would end a threat to America's meat supply.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, May 29
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE lunar transits for this day encourage a definite and quick grasp of a sudden opening to achieve an important objective largely by an astute stroke of ingenuity or creative skill in which the element of surprise may prove an asset.

Matters of surprising scope and magnitude may be abruptly moved to dynamic achievement, with surprising crises and enhanced popularity and prestige. Seek collaboration from those in high place. The ment of romance and adventure may prove highlights, so dare to deviate from regulation and beaten paths, prudently.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a sudden and dramatic aboutface in their affairs, in which an unanticipated event or visitation may beget a stroke of lady luck, under which increased assets, expanded openings for exceptional achievement and innovation.

Dramatic and thrilling events may sweep affairs into far fields, and with long-range adventure, fulfilled hopes and wishes. Ingenuity, skill, or innovation are in line for spectacular culminations.

A child born on this day has much originality and ingenuity, and should make a surprising success of its life, with an adventurous career.

When Jacob Malik arrived to replace Andrei Gromyko as Russia's chief spokesman in the U.N., he set some sort of record by answering "No comment" to about 30 questions put to him by New York reporters.

At that the new delegate may turn out to be more talkative than Mr. Gromyko, whose only answer to so many questions has been just plain "no."

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Breast-fed Baby Is Healthiest

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
WHEN life begins too soon, death wins easy victories. The baby born before the usual time must receive very special care if he is to survive. The less he weighs, the harder he is to care for. The more immature he is, the less he is fitted for independent life.

Even with all the resources of modern science—incubators to keep them warm, special devices and procedures to guard them against infections, and that best of all baby foods, mother's milk—it is impossible to save all these prematurely-born infants.

Thus, everything possible should be done to keep babies from being born before the full term of pregnancy has elapsed.

Some special studies on women who repeatedly gave birth to premature babies, have been made by Dr. Eleanor Delfs, of Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. She concluded that many such women were suffering from lack of thyroid secretion.

In almost three-fourths of the patients studied by her, such a deficiency was noted. Some of them also lacked certain of the secretions from the sex glands, and vitamin E. When there is a lack of thyroid secretion, it is suggested that thyroid extract be given, starting three or four months before pregnancy occurs, and that it be continued throughout the term of pregnancy.

Failure to begin treatment with the thyroid extract early enough may account for some of the failures and disappointments with this form of treatment.

Of course, in those cases in which there is a lack of sex gland secretions or vitamin E these things must also be supplied.

In addition to treatment with gland extracts, it would appear inadvisable for these women to engage in vigorous sports, strenuous activities, or hard work. On the other hand, ordinary household duties and similar occupations are permissible.

It is important that over-tiredness and fatigue be avoided. Long periods of rest in bed are apparently not necessary.

Proof of the success of this treatment is found in the fact that 39 women who had previously had 155 pregnancies, with only 12 living babies had 29 live babies in 43 pregnancies after treatment with the thyroid extract.

Any woman who repeatedly gives birth to premature infants should, of course, consult her physician for careful study and treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. R.: I work at night under fluorescent lights and always seem to have a headache. What is causing this?

Answer: It is not likely that the lights are responsible for the headache. Headaches may be due to many causes, such as infections, a circulatory disturbance, allergy, eyestrain, or constipation.

A thorough study by a physician to determine the cause of the headaches would be advisable.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

Rep. Lewis Votes For Trade Agreement Limit

WASHINGTON, May 28 — Seventeen of Ohio's representatives in congress, all Republicans, voted yesterday for a one-year extension of the Trade Agreements act. The Ohio vote:

Republicans for — Bender, Bolton, Brehm, Brown, Burke, Carson, Clevenger, Elston, Griffiths, Hess, Jenkins, Lewis, McCowen, McCullough, McGregor, Ramey, Vorys.

Republicans against — Smith, Weisheit.

Democrats against — Crosser, Feighan, Huber and Kirwan.

"UNION BUSTING" CHARGED BY KIRWAN

WASHINGTON, May 28 — Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D. O., today accused Republican members of the house appropriations committee of resorting to "union busting" in their zeal to curb Communism.

Kirwan aimed his criticism at an anti-Red provision in the Interior department's money bill which came up for a vote on the house floor today.

Under the provision, none of the money earmarked for the department could be used to pay a government employee who is a member of a labor union whose officials have refused to sign Taft-Hartley non-Communists affidavits.

An employee who accepted federal pay under such circumstances could be jailed and fined up to $1,000.

Kirwan said the provision is "unconstitutional and un-American," and he added: "I hate to see congress using union-busting tactics to get rid of Communists."

Religious School Will Teach Sex Hygiene Text

CHICAGO—A rabbi here said sex hygiene would be taught in the religious school of the South Shore Temple because sex questions may be answered "with utmost propriety within . . . a house of religious instruction."

Dr. G. George Fox, rabbi of the Reform Jewish congregation, said sex education given by medical and religious leaders would offset "the grossness which improper knowledge of this sort assumes when learned in unsuitable places and from ignorant persons."

Fox said that the instruction would be for parents as well as children. Boys and girls would be taught in separate classes.

AGENTS IN BRIBE CASE SENTENCED

YOUNGSTOWN, May 28—Leonard Strauss, 32, of Middletown, and Joseph Holland, 56, of Cleveland, both Ohio liquor department inspectors, were sentenced to one-to-10-year terms in the Ohio penitentiary yesterday by a three-judge court.

The court found them guilty Tuesday of soliciting a bribe from Paul Alvino, operator of the R-Villa, last Aug. 10.

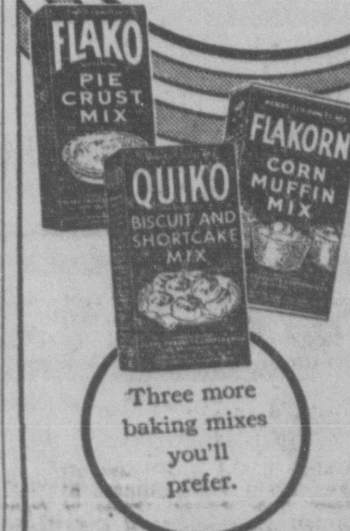

Strauss and Holland were found guilty of demanding $1,500 to $2,500 from Alvino after they had bought liquor on a Sunday, a violation of state liquor laws.

Alvino, whose night club license has been suspended for 60 days by the state liquor board, has been bound over to the Mahoning county grand jury on charges of offering the bribe in the same case.

and it flashes to Los Angeles. There the signals are automatically received in printed form ready for delivery. Telegrams coming to this city will receive the same fast service.

Another feature of Western Union's mechanization program is a radio beam network. A beam system has been constructed to link New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Pittsburgh. An experimental radio beam system has been in operation between Philadelphia and New York since February, 1945.

The radio beam network substitutes radio towers 30 to 50 miles apart for the familiar pole lines which have been a symbol of the telegraph for so many years. Since the super-high-frequency waves in the system travel in a straight line, towers must be used to re-direct them at intervals to compensate for the curvature of the earth. Antennas, equipped with parabolic reflectors, transmit the signals in a narrow beam from tower to tower, and unattended repeater stations automatically and instantaneously send the radio-telegraph signals on their way.

Since atmospheric static is not felt in the microwave region, radio beam transmission is unaffected by electrical disturbances. Service interruptions due to ice, high wind and falling trees are eliminated.

Another important development is the Telefax. This machine provides fully automatic facsimile or "picture" transmission of telegrams.

A new simplified Telefax machine, known as the Desk-Fax, equipped both to receive and send messages, has been developed and is now undergoing service trials in customer offices. It is approximately the size of a telephone desk set.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said he fears the visit is "bound to have political implications." He added:

"I want to keep the ECA as free from politics as I can."

One of the topics MacArthur will be questioned about if he comes home is the foreign aid program being carried out under the Economic Cooperation Administration—better known as ECA.

WOOD RITES

Funeral service for Albert Wood, who died Monday afternoon at his home, Mound st., was held Thursday afternoon at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. David Molyneux, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial was in the Alliance cemetery.

The Odd Fellows lodge of Alliance of which he was a 50-year member conducted a service Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

Mr. Wood is survived by two sons,
John S., of Steubenville and Kenneth A., of Columbus, and three daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Wells of Akron; Mrs. Glenn Remier of Gar, Ind., and Mrs. Emma Bowman of Marlboro.

the richest persons in the world.
Let us keep it that way."

State troopers kept order outside after the ceremony, as the couple made their way through rice and confetti.

Smoothing down her blue and white print cotton dress, the bride declared:

"I'm so happy. I never thought we would have a wedding like this."

McGee, who began courting her shortly after her first husband died last February had little to say.

Mrs. McGee thinks she may lose her old age pension but would rather have a young strong man than a pension.

"See to it" that he shaves every day.
She has borne seven children, two of whom died in a highway accident.
She lost her left leg in the accident and now has an artificial one.

Privately, Mrs. McGee admits she must be more than 90, but for the marriage license record she made it 80.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

A recent story in a well-known weekly magazine propounded the theory that millions of Americans were missing one of the world's most fascinating sports — polo — because the game has come to represent a "rich man's game" and isn't available to the general public.

To a very large extent this is true, but in Salem sports fans are not so restricted in their quest for entertainment.

For polo here is far from a rich man's game and annually provides full weekend entertainment for hundreds of Salemites. Perhaps the number who watch the game here is altogether too small.

The Salem Polo club, a civic minded non-profit organization of sportsmen dedicated to their hobby, has offered Salem something just a bit out of the ordinary for many years.

Their efforts, long considered among the best in polo in this section, probably are being neglected by a lot of fans who just haven't taken the time to go out and see a game.

Polo can in no way be considered beyond the enjoyment of the ordinary sports fan. The rules of the game are fairly simple and the excitement and beauty of watching the well-trained ponies in action is something that is quite within the realm of enjoyment for the layman.

The program presented by the local club is vitally dependent on the support of the sports-minded people of the community. The costs of maintaining the field alone, excluding the upkeep and training of the club's stables, makes that fact obvious.

The average fan should realize that the club is not making a profit on its games, even when large crowds jam the field. The income at the gate barely meets the expenses incurred to present the contests.

Polo in Salem has enjoyed several well-backed seasons. But in the past two seasons the crowds have declined. The following of pre-war days is needed again to give the sport the boost that it must have to survive.

The club has arranged a splendid schedule for this season, starting with the Columbus Harbor Hills outfit's appearance here Sunday and Monday.

Those who trek out to the N. Ellsworth road field will be rewarded in not only exciting competition, but a chance to watch some fine calibre mounts and some of the best players mid-western polo has to offer.

DEPT. OF TENNIS
Tennis enthusiasts are preparing for another active season. The courts at the Salem Country club, as well as those at Centennial park in the city, are being groomed for play over the weekend.

Although no definite arrangements as to schedule are made as yet, the Salem tennis team which held several matches at the club and out of town last year plans activity this season.

The Carloss brothers, Lloyd Gordon, John Mulford, Jr., Gordon Scott and several others are among the organizers of the tennis team. Salem last season met teams from East Palestine, Youngstown, Akron and Warren and turned in a better than average record.

Play increased at Centennial park last season and the park commissioners hope to have the courts in even better condition this year.

The Country club courts were extensively improved last season and are reportedly in good shape again.

ODDS AND ENDS

The resignation of Junie Ferrall of Canton Lincoln Wednesday came as a surprise to many followers of scholastic sport in this area. Junie had been mentioned in connection with the Massillon set-up and at Hamilton. He will remain closely associated with scholastic coaching activity, however, in his new position with the Canton W. R. Sports store.

Dr. R. T. Holzbach, one of the "Wednesday-Sunday" golfers at the Salem club, had a beautiful round Wednesday, shooting a 36, just one over par for nine. Doc, who is among the low-handicap players at the club, reports that it was among his "best-ever" efforts.

F. E. Cope announces—no it's not too early that season tickets for football will go into the downtown outlets Tuesday. If you're after a certain spot you'd better get down early. It looks like another banner year at the gate.

A. A. Burkey of McDonald, district board member of the Ohio High School Athletic association, reports that the Class B district track meet, held at Reilly stadium this year, may not be brought back here. Although everyone was greatly pleased with the operation of the meet, some schools would prefer having it on Saturday afternoon instead of Wednesday. It conflicts with the "A" meet here on Saturday and may have to be shifted.

MORE THAN 100 TO ENTER FLAG TOURNEY MONDAY

Pro Andy Mocsary Expects Large Holiday Entry: Women Lay Plans

The official opening of golf season at the Salem Golf club Monday, Memorial day, will probably draw at least 100 into the annual Memorial day Flag tournament.

Club Pro Andy Mocsary reported over 50 entries for the summer tourneys early this week and fully anticipates more than 100 entries by the Flag tourney Monday.

The Monday tourney is run on a full handicap basis, each golfer being allowed the 70 strokes constituting par for 18 holes, plus the full amount of his handicap as stipulated by the pro.

Each golfer is given a flag, which he plants on the course at the point of his strokes. The golfers who reach the farthest in their allotted strokes win places in the two flights. Mocsary reports that he believes an "increased interest" again this season. Those enthusiasts who are anxious to improve their games have already started turning out for lessons from Mocsary and the through-the-week play is heavier than is considered usual in such cool weather.

The course has remained fairly dry for this early in the season and few days have been unsuitable for play, despite the high winds and comparably low temperatures.

The women at the club have laid out another active schedule, featuring their regular "Ladies days" each Tuesday.

The first of these events is slated Tuesday when the women will hold their own Flag tourney.

A number of trips out of town are planned and guests from the club's visited will be entertained here on "Guest day."

LISBON MERCHANTS EDGE SALEM 4 TO 2

Lisbon's Merchants, fast becoming one of the team's to beat in the Salem A. C. baseball league, Thursday defeated the Salem Senior Merchants 4-2 at the E. State st. park diamond.

The Salem club couldn't manage that badly needed pair of runs to knot the count and went down af-

IS SECOND IN ROW FOR AMVET STAR

Victories Keep Amvets, Mullins and Demings Unbeaten in Five

"Fireball" Johnny Zines, with his whip-like pitching arm working like a well-oiled machine, racked up his second straight no-hit victory 11-0 over the unfortunate Electric Furnace team at West End park Thursday evening as Francis Lanney of the Salem Diner matched the job with one of his own.

Zines' beautiful hurling, backed by some impressive slugging by his mates, keeps the Amvet aggregation undefeated and on top of the Class A struggle along with Deming and Mullins, both winners also Thursday.

The Deming outfit, with Kenny Brudery doing a neat five-hit hurling package, edged the Salem China in a thriller and Mullins, continuing a determined bid for top honors, earned an easy 13-9 victory over the hapless Frost Motors.

In the other game Thursday the twice-beaten Diner got over the 500 mark with a sterling 12-0 victory over Washingtonville's Elite nine.

The Diner game saw Lanney, one of the league's top hurlers, toss his first no-hitter of the season. In excellent shape, Lanney worked like a charm all the way and kept the always dangerous Elite hitters shackled from the first pitch.

It was one of Lanney's best efforts in the Salem loop and his teammates gave him full support with a 14-hit blast.

The two no-hitters last night bring the season's total to four, Zines hurling two, Lanney one and Ray McGaffick credited with another.

Kennel Club Hears Judges, Plans For June Puppy Show

A panel discussion on "Breeding, Raising and Showing of Dogs," arranged by Arthur Vaughan, was featured at a dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Kennel Club Wednesday evening in the Lape hotel.

Dr. E. Thomas and Oscar Hughes of Youngstown were speakers. Thomas is a Doberman pinscher judge, while Hughes is a Cocker spaniel breeder and judge.

Representatives of the Trumbull-Mahoning Dog Club attended the meeting in the interest of a specialty show in connection with the dog show this club plans to stage Aug. 15.

Puppies may be entered in three classes at the spring puppy match scheduled for 1 p. m., Sunday, June 6, in Centennial park.

They are: Four to six months; six to nine months and nine to 12 months. Any puppy owner is eligible to the match and ribbons will be awarded. Entries close at 1 p. m.

A Clevelandan will speak on "Responsibility of Judges" at the June 23 meeting in the Lape hotel.

High Meat Prices Make Seafood More Popular

DALLAS, Tex.—High meat prices have caused many persons to turn to seafood, says D. E. Wicker, who has made a study of the eating habits of Dallas residents.

The average person in the United States consumes about 15 pounds of seafood per year, Wicker says, but in Dallas the average is closer to 30 pounds, considered high for an inland city.

Wicker points to his sale of shrimp in 1926, when Dallas county residents consumed a 150-pound barrel of shrimp each week. Today, his firm sells more than 65 barrels of shrimp weekly.

PEARSON NAMED FATHER OF YEAR

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 28—The National father's day committee today named Drew Pearson, news commentator and columnist, as father of the year.

Pearson, originator of the International Friendship train which collected food for European relief, was selected in recognition of his fight for democracy throughout the world, the announcement said.

Other fathers named in various fields were:
Radio father—Eddie Cantor because of his fight for freedom and tolerance.

Sports father—Bob Feller, Cleveland pitcher, on the basis of the "father" he has been to thousands of children.

Screen father—Gregory Peck for his efforts on behalf of child welfare and his portrayal of "father" in the academy award picture "Gentlemen's Agreement."

Stage father—David Wayne, star of the Broadway hit "Mr. Roberts," for the many campaigns he has aided through his activities in the theater.

Literary father—Van Wyck Mason, author of the novel, "Eagle in the Sky," for his record in the two world wars and his work for the United Nations.

Father's day will be observed Sunday, June 20.

Writer Denies Script Followed His Beliefs

NEW YORK, May 28—Rene Borgia, discharged NBC script writer who prepared the controversial "Voice of America" script, declared today he was not responsible for them.
In a telephone interview, Borgia said "I was told to write them that way. I didn't even sign them because I didn't believe what was in them."
He identified Alberto Ganderio as the man who told him what to write and said Ganderio was head of the Spanish language section in NBC's short-wave department. Ganderio was relieved of his duties and then resigned, NBC said.

Dale E. Sittler Honored

T. V. Utterback, principal of Fairfield Local High school, announces that Dale E. Sittler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sittler and a member of this year's graduating class, is the winner of the Bausch & Lomb Honoring Science Award Medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during his high school course. Founded in 1932, the honoring science award program has the approval of the National Association of Secondary School Principals and of leading educators in every state. Competition for the bronze award medal is keen as the winner is eligible to compete for one of the five Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships at the University of Rochester.

The science scholarships, valued at $1,500 each, were established in 1944 by the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. as a further incentive to science students. Winners of the science scholarships are expected to major in optics, physics, engineering, chemistry, mathematics, or a combination of these subjects. A limited number will be permitted to major in the pre-medical or other courses. In commenting upon the science award, Mr. Utterback said "The study of science is assuming increasingly greater importance in American education and industry. Winning the science award medal at Fairfield Local High school is, in itself, a significant indication of scientific aptitude."

Rev. I. B. Witmer visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wisler last Saturday morning.
